Was set up by Jean-Pierre Passaquay in November 1999, after the sale of the Bollé Group where he was the manager of the safety department for 20 years.

This safety eyewear experience originated SWISS ONE SAFETY which has its head office in Geneva, Switzerland. The Swiss One Safety company manufactures and distributes products specialized in head protection. The Swiss One brand includes a wide range of safety spectacles and goggles for industries, military and tactical use, and welding helmets.

Swiss One Safety manufactures and distributes high quality «Selected Products» - and wants to enter into partnership with exclusive distributor networks «Selected People». As a result, Swiss One Safety invests in training, communication and technology to bring a maximum support to its customers

Swiss One Safety's mission is to provide its customers with quality products while assisting them in marketing and «first class» service.

Our vocation is to promote the personal protective equipment activity. Our objective is to set up a long term relationship with our customers, our suppliers and our associates in order to position Swiss One as an international Quality symbol.
